JACKSON CITY ITEMS

Local Happenings About Amador's County Seat

The Ledger takes pleasure in calling the attention of its readers to the Red Front ad on page 4 of this issue. This thriving business house formerly occupied a position on the first page but consented to move into the page which is the star attraction for the county reader and thus enable us to better display our important news items.

Judge Wood left Sunday for Independence, Inyo county, where he will try a murder case in which the local judge is disqualified. He expects to return early next week.

Notices are posted for the school election in the respective school districts. The election will be held Friday, April 1st.

Mr Solinsky, manager of the Amador Lumber yards on Sutter hill lost a valuable dog while visiting in Mokelumne hill a few days ago. The animal was valued at over $25.

Blanks will soon be sent out by the school superintendent to the clerk of each district for taking the school census, which commences April 15. As this is the general census year, the federal authorities expect that the census marshals of the school districts will be of assistance in the federal census, that is in the information obtained.

A new porch is being erected at the property occupied by Peter Giurani on Broadway, and owned by Belluomini and Co.

We call the attention of our readers to the ad of the Pacific Coast Casualty Co. which appears in another column. This is an old established strong California company with cash assets of nearly a million dollars and solicits the patronage of local institutions. The Company has requested us to say that it is no way connected with the Pacific Surety Co. either in stock ownership or business. Similarity of names has frequently led to confusion but these companies are distinct and independent of each other in every way.

The Kay building, 19 Main street, is in the hands of the painter, and will receive a new coat of paint both inside and out. This kind of improvement is an outward sign of prosperity, and helps a city in more than one way. Let the good work continue.

The enterprising Komfort shoe store conducted by R. S. Bierce, is undergoing a few alterations. A new repair shop being part of the improvement. The present repair quarters is being thrown into the main hall.

P. Picardo has a house full of orders, which speaks well for this thriving little city. Recently he turned out a good order for the Buffalo Brewing company, and at present is at work on a new set of harness for Dr. Endicott's team.

The Ledger has secured the services of W. Scott Thomas, who will attend to the outside work in soliciting, collecting and reporting. He is an all round newspaper man, has had charge of the printing department in the navy, and also experience in newspaper work generally. For several weeks he was employed on the Amador Record. We recommend him to our patrons and the public generally. He will be found a genial and whole-souled fellow and reliable in every way.

The candidate's card of Matthew Joy will be found in this issue. He is a candidate for the office of city marshal. He is well-known to the voters, as he has been a resident here since childhood. We can only say that he is competent to discharge the duties of that office, and would devote himself solely to looking after the city interests if elected.

Mr Rainsford, superintendent of the Argonaut mine, left Sunday morning for San Francisco, and expects to be gone a week or ten days.

The Ledger in publishing a list of candidates for city offices last week omitted the name of James Mushett, who is out for the office of marshal. Bert Head is not a candidate.

Don't forget Children's Day at Mary L. Prossers.

Nifty trimmed hats of all kinds to suit the little folks, Wednesday, March 23, 1910. Don't forget the place.

ZEILA MINER LOSES ARM

John Donahue Struck by Rock is Seriously Injured

A miner named John Donahue met with a terrible accident in the Zeila mine early yesterday morning. He was working in one of the drifts about one o'clock, when a huge rock, weighing several hundred pounds, fell from the roof, striking him solidly on the right arm, between the shoulder and wrist, crushing the member in a shocking manner. He was pinned to the floor of the drift by the weight of the rock, and it required the united strength of three men to lift the stone from his arm. He was removed to the hospital as soon as possible, and Dr. Gall was summoned. The arm was so crushed that there was no hope of saving the use of it, and amputation was decided upon. This was done during yesterday, by Dr. Gall, and assisted by Dr. Endicott.

The victim is a single man, about thirty years of age, and came here from Grass Valley some five months ago, and has been employed most of the time since at the Zeila, and boarded at Rugne's on Main street. Of course the accident will incapacitate him from earning a livelihood at mining hereafter. The unfortunate man was liked by his fellow workmen, and all deeply deplore the sad calamity that has overtaken him.

Dr. Gall was interviewed directly after the operation, and said his patient was resting as well as could be expected. The operation was a success, and nothing of a serious nature as yet appears to hinder the victim from a complete recovery. The arm was amputated directly below the elbow, and a fracture of the same arm directly above the elbow was dressed.

BIG LIMESTONE ENTERPRISE

Local Investors Bond Interest of Industry at Mount Echo

The limestone deposits in the vicinity of Mount Echo which have been bonded in the interest of a number of local investors with the view of their development on a large scale, bid fair to constitute a very important industry in the distant future. The deposit on the Henderson tract—which is the nearest to the Amador Central railroad—has been tested in several places, for the purpose of ascertaining its extent and quality. So far as this prospecting has gone, the results are more than gratifying. It is intended to push the prospecting further before taking decisive steps to place the enterprise on a producing basis. An expert railroad engineer was up recently and surveyed a route from the Amador Central track near Kerr's station to the quarry, a distance of nearly a mile. The construction of a spur track to a point on Sutter creek opposite the quarry, and from thence have an aerial tramway to the quarry—a distance of 1400 or 1500 feet the cars on the aerial line to be operated by gravity, the loaded cars bringing the empty cars back. The aerial line has not been surveyed as yet, nor estimates given thereon from an actual examination of the ground by an expert. It is roughly estimated that this preliminary work will involve an outlay of $20,000 or more.

There is a demand at the present time for between twenty and thirty thousand tons of this limestone per year. It has been subjected to practical tests and pronounced equal if not superior to any rock in the state for sugar refining purposes. They are anxious to get it, and the only question is to get to market at a cost that will permit of a reasonable margin of profit. This is the problem which the promoters are trying to solve by railroad and ariel transportation.

A meeting of those interested will be called next week, when a permanent organization in the shape of an incorporated company will be formed, and the scheme established on a solid basis. There is no doubt that all the needed capital can be raised without difficulty by the sale of stock, unless unlooked for difficulties intervene.

Rain Brings New Hopes

Abundant rains have fallen throughout the county the past week. In Jackson the rainfall has measured 4.05 inches, making 24.76 inches for the season to date. The storm this week was most timely. Sown crops and native grasses have made wonderful headway, and the outlook for a bountiful harvest was never more promising. The farmers are jubilant over the prospect.

A reception was tendered to Mrs Judge Davis, who came up with the Judge from San Francisco last week on a visit, and to meet her many friends in this city. ## ROBBERY AT LODI HOME

Mrs. Voorheis Former Manager of National Hotel is Victim

A press dispatch from Lodi, says that the residence of Mrs Martha J. Voorheis, at 119 Elm street, was entered some time during Monday last, and robbed of much valuable property. It is supposed the burglars entered about three o'clock in the morning. Nothing was known by the inmates until they noticed some hour later that someone had been around and helped himself to eatables. An investigation was then started, and it was discovered that a japanned tin box, in which Mrs Voorheis kept her jewelry and valuable papers, was missing. In this box she had diamonds, valuable coins, rings, pins, insurance policies, memorial papers mining stock, and other things of priceless worth to the owner. The matter was at once reported to the authorities, and the officials made a thorough examination of the premises, but failed to find any clue that would indicate the identity of the guilty parties. Postal cards have been sent out to sheriffs and constables, describing the articles stolen, and a strict watch is being kept on pawn shops.

Mrs Voorheis was former proprietress of the National hotel in Jackson, and left here about a year ago for the San Joaquin town, where she has since resided. She has a host of friends in this city and other parts of the county, who will regret to hear of her loss.

Tailor Goes to Sacramento

Sigmund Deutsch, the tailor, has decided to leave Jackson, and return to Sacramento. He will finish up the work he has on hand, and leave about the first of next month.

AGITATE HIGH SCHOOL PLANS

Sutter Creek Circulates Petition Favoring Project

An agitation is on foot for the submission of a proposition at the forthcoming general election for the establishment of a county high school. Some ladies in Sutter Creek are taking the initiative in circulating a petition requesting the supervisors to have the matter voted upon at the November election. It is the prevailing impression that the project of a county high school would be indorsed at the polls. A difference of opinion exists as to the advisability of submitting the question at a general election, when the minds of the voters are occupied with such multiplicity of issues, and the importance of this particular issue would not be fully appreciated. The voters would have nothing to do with: deciding upon the location of the school. That would be an after consideration, which would be taken up by the board of education, a unanimous vote of the board being necessary to decide it. Failing to secure a unanimous vote, the issue would have to be submitted to the voters at a special election.

New Residence for Broadway

Dr. A. M. Gall, has under course of construction, a new 1 story bungalow, which will be 38 by 48 feet in dimensions. The new building is located on Broadway, on the site of his former residence, which was destroyed by fire last fall. The work is in charge of Thomas Le Mieux, a reputable contractor from Stockton.

Census Enumerators.

Miss M. E. McCaskey, the school teacher in Aetna district, has received notification of her appointment as census enumerator in township one. She has been assigned to take the census in all territory of township one outside of the city of Jackson. The enumerator for the city of Jackson is not mentioned at present. The appointment must have been made, but who the successful applicant is we have not heard. A party in Jackson received word some time ago that all the places had been filled, except in township three, which conveyed the idea that the enumerator for Jackson would probably be one from the outside. There does not seem to be any rush after these government jobs, as township five and a portion of township four are also unfilled.

MINE NEWS ALONG LODI

South Eureka Looms to the Front Very Prominently

Reports from the South Eureka mine indicate steady work, and a good output of ore for many months, and possibly years to come.

A new sulphatis mill is the latest addition to this prospering mine, and many more improvements are now being considered.

The mine will in the near future, install a new hoisting engine with a capacity of 450 horse-power, necessitated by reason of the new mill, which is about ready to undergo construction.

Ore taken from the South Eureka is said to be the best the mine has heretofore produced, and warrants all improvements planned.

Centra Eureka—The Central Eureka mine still continues sinking on their shaft. The shaft is now over a depth of 2500 feet, and latest information gives 2800 feet as the level desired by this company before drifting will again be resumed. Superintendent Voorheis made a trip to San Francisco last Friday, and is expected to be absent for about a week.

Kennedy—This company paid a dividend last month of 30 cents per share, aggregating $30,000. This splendid distribution to the stockholders was from the profits earned during the month of February. There are few transfers of stock in this mine. Stockholders are content with the income from their investment and are not disposed to sell, except at a figure which investors are not disposed to give. Between $6 and $7 per share has been offered for the stock, without avail.

Zeila—Reports have been frequently heard to the effect that a big ore body of good paying character has been struck in the Fleming extension on the north. We wish we were in a position to verify the accuracy of these flying rumors. It is no secret that the company has been following a big ore body on the north, and that the drifting operations have reached over 2000 feet from the shaft. The ore looks well, and judging from appearance one would be inclined to believe that it is of a paying grade. But inquiry from those who know fails to confirm the report of any new and rich strike. Unfortunately the rock in the north territory. It has proved of poorer quality than that encountered in old Zeila ground. Prospecting operations are continued in the hope that the ore will improve in gold-bearing qualities.

A new ore body was found in the 2700 level of the Kennedy mine, which promises to be good paying rock. The new find has been opened up quite a distance, and seems to be widening.

The old shaft is still doing duty, carrying timber etc. into the 23d level, from which place it is hauled to the new works. Considerable ore is still being worked in the old mine in several drifts, which is reported to be paying good. This ore is all carried underground to the new shaft, which hoists it at the rate of over two thousand feet a minute up the new perpendicular shaft.

Copper Mine—Work on the Johnson copper mine, three miles west of Jackson, has been suspended, for the time being at least. Whether operations will be resumed by the company that held the option is uncertain. It is reported that other parties are looking over the property with a view to purchasing. Good ore has been struck and the indication for the development of a paying mine are reported to be exceedingly favorable.

Champion.—Work is about to be started on this quartz claim, situated in Hunt's gulch, adjoining the Amador Queen on the south. The parties interested are said to be mostly local men.

Sawmill Well Equipped

The new sawmill at the Argonaut mine, which will be in operation shortly, will be equipped with a large rip saw, a crosscut saw, a wedge and framing outfit. There will be installed as motive power, one 50 horse power motor and one 20 horse power motor.

SPEAKER CANNON DEFIANT.

That the attitude of Cannon, as speaker of the house of representatives, should arouse severe criticism, is not surprising. He is only meeting the same kind of bitter hostility that his predecessors in his high position met before him, and that will be doled out to his successors after him. We were entertained with denunciation of Reedism when the distinguished member from Maine was speaker of the house as we now bear of Cannonism under the present administration of the speakership by the equally illustrious gentleman from Illinois. Reed, however, had the solid support of the republican majority in congress to back him up in his determination to thwart the democratic obstructionists. Cannon, on the other hand, has to face an unseemly alliance between a small faction of republicans, known as insurgents; and the strong democratic minority. The combination when in solid array can outvote the regular republicans. The past week has witnessed on the floor of the house a spectacle without a parallel in the annals of the dominant party in congress. On a strictly party issue the democrats, with the aid of their insurgent allies, have succeeded in humiliating Speaker Cannon, who next to President Taft is the most powerful official in the United States. Of course the democrats feel jubilant over this notable victory, and particularly so on account of its achievement by the reinforcement of their ranks by the insurgent brigade. By a vote of 191 against 151 stand-patters the speaker was ousted from the committee on rules, and that committee, heretofore consisting of five members appointed by the speaker, with himself as one, will hereafter be composed of ten members—six republicans and four democrats. Pressed to its logical conclusion, this adverse vote meant the deposition of Cannon from the speakership. His weak-kneed friends urged him to voluntarily resign, thereby saving himself, as they thought, the further humiliation of being fired out by the democrats with the aid of the bolting republicans. But Cannon was not built after the weak-knee pattern. He declined to raise the white flag in the face of his victorious foes. He resolved to fight to a finish, and stated that a motion to declare the speaker's chair vacant would be in order. He defied them to carry out the program to its ultimatum. This flank move caused the insurgent group to squirm. It was up to them to put the control of the house in hands of the democratic minority. And at the crucial moment they backed down. With only three republicans siding with the democratic motion to oust the speaker, Cannon emerged from the long-drawn-out struggle triumphant. No man that ever sat in the speaker's chair has proved himself more suited for that position than Cannon. He has come out of this struggle the grandest figure in all the warring factions. It is absolutely necessary to the conduct of business that the speaker should be endowed with extraordinary power. Experience—the only infallible teacher—has shown that the speaker should have a strong hold on the committee on rules. With all the talk about Cannonism, it cannot be shown that he has unwisely exercised his great authority. It remains to be seen whether the curbing of his power over the committee on rules will be conducive to the conduct of legislative business or otherwise.

The band of insurgent republicans are placed in a sorry plight. They claim they voted from principle, and not from a personal grudge against the speaker. Cannon, however, is not backward in branding them as cowards, and however galling the designation may be, it seems to fit the case. They deserted their new-found allies at the critical time. They were appalled when brought face to face with the practical outcome of their desertion of the republican lines, and made haste to get back to the party they had so basely betrayed. We believe they will have a hard time this fall, when appealing to their constituents for renomination, in satisfying the republicans of the righteousness of their action. It is all very well for republicans to disagree on minor questions, but when it comes to a vital issue an act of party treason is not likely to be condoned.

CALIFORNIA FIRM TAKES MANY AWARDS

Eilers' Music Exhibit Earns Twenty Nine and Medals at Seattle Fair.

Official confirmation of the awards granted the various exhibits at the big Seattle exposition has now been received by California firms who exhibited here. The most extensive and unprecedented recognition, it appears, has been scored by Eilers Music company. This firm, recognizing the importance of the event, arranged what was admittedly the most comprehensive display of musical instruments ever made at a great international exposition in this country or abroad.

The instruments exhibited were placed in open rivalry with not only the most widely advertised American makes but also the best known makes of musical instruments of Germany, France, Sweden, Japan and other countries were entered in competition. It appears that in each and every class the highest grand prizes were awarded to the instruments exhibited by the house of Eilers.

Twenty of these awards were of the first order, termed the highest grand prize, eight of the second order, termed gold medals, and one was of the third order, a silver medal.

An artistic triumph of this character has never before been equaled, and goes a long way towards making good the claims of this house as to handling the choicest of America's best musical instruments.

At the World's Fair in Chicago, the supreme award, one grand sweeping diploma for highest excellence for pianos, both upright and grand, was bestowed on the Kimball, and the jury at the Seattle exposition again awarded the grand highest honors to the Kimball pianos as well as to the Kimball pipe organs, both of which are sold exclusively on the coast by Eilers Music company.

A new department for World's Fairs was the player piano department, in which were exhibited a large number of the best player pianos now on the market. The highest grand award was given to the well-known Autopiano, which is now controlled on the Pacific coast by the Eilers Music houses.

In addition to the above, the following grand prizes for musical instruments, etc., have been announced, the agency in each case being controlled by the Eilers Music company. Peerless electric pianos, Eilers piano soundboard and improved ribbon system, the Welte Mignon, Pacific Queen organs, Kinetic organ blower, Edison Cylinder talking machines, Columbia Disc talking machines, Eilers talking machine needles, Bithorn folding organ, refinishing piano process, Eilers piano polish, Seaverns piano action, improved piano benches, gold medals were awarded as follows: Decker & Sons' talking machines, Marshall & Wendell pianos were awarded a silver medal.

This is assuredly a far-reaching recognition of musical merit, settling quite definitely, as it does, the question of supremacy and leadership in the different lines of pianos, organs, player pianos, etc.

How Good News Spreads.

"I am 70 years old and travel most of the time," writes B. F. Tolson, of Elizabethtown, Ky. "Everywhere I go I recommend Electric Bitters, because I owe my excellent health and vitality to them. They effect a cure every time." They never fail to tone the stomach, regulate the kidneys and bowels, stimulate the liver, invigorate the nerves and purify the blood. They work wonders for weak, run-down men and women, restoring strength, vigor and health that's a daily joy. Try them. Only 50c. Satisfaction is positively guaranteed by Spagnoli's Drug Store.

El Dorado Mine Booming.

The Last Chance mine of El Dorado county closed its mill temporary while it is sinking its shaft. The shaft is now 600 feet deep. A very promising gouge has been found which lies close to the paying ledge that made this mine prominent. The drifting and crosscutting is progressing rapidly, and each day brings more hopes of the new find, which is now being prospected. The mill will resume operation as soon as the development warrants it.

Eat What

You want of the food you need
Kodol will digest it.

You need a sufficient amount of good wholesome food and more than this you need to fully digest it.

Else you can't gain strength, nor can you strengthen your stomach if it is weak.

You must eat in order to live and maintain strength.

You must not diet, because the body requires that you eat a sufficient amount of food regularly.

But this food must be digested, and it must be digested thoroughly.

When the stomach can't do it, you must take something that will help the stomach.

The proper way to do is to eat what you want, and let Kodol digest the food.

Nothing else can do this. When the stomach is weak it needs help; you must help it by giving it rest, and Kodol will do that.

FROM OUR EXCHANGES

News of Interest from Towns Surrounding County Seat

The lone Copper mine, so the Echo is informed, has begun shipping ore to the smelters. The shipping point is Clarksonia. Their first shipments were made this week.—Echo.

It is reported among the wise ones, that A. Caminetti will not be a candidate this year for the joint senatorship. Since this story gained credence, it is whispered about that Will A. Dower of San Andreas is likely to be the candidate of the democratic ticket. If this is the case the republicans will have to select a strong man, or Will is likely to walk away with the plum. He is very popular in this county without regard to party feeling, and the man who defeats him will have to be the very best.—Prospect.

An unfortunate affair occurred at the Grand Central hotel in Stockton last Sunday night in which Edward T. Murphy, formerly of San Andreas was a leading figure. Murphy is the bar-keeper of the hotel bar and the victim of the trouble was a man named Burke employed as a porter. It appears that Burke with several others were drinking in the bar and was very much intoxicated. An altercation arose between him and Murphy and Burke tried to hit him with a stool. In the mixup that followed the stool was broken and Murphy hit Burke in the stomach knocking him through the door where he fell on the sidewalk fracturing his skull, from the effects of which he died a few hours later. A coroner's jury comprised of some of the leading men of Stockton exonerated Murphy from all blame and he was released from custody.—Prospect.

Lawrence Gregory killed an immense rattler near the Hamm ranch last Saturday, the first one reported this season.—Echo

There is a persistent rumor that the chrome ore found near the Horton place is very valuable. This rumor places it at $90 a ton, and maybe more. There is a mountain of it, and if it is as rich as that it would seem that capital could be interested to do something with it. To open it and get it on the market would be a big advertisement for this end of Amador county.—Echo.

Three boys at the Preston school made a break for liberty Wednesday evening about 7 o'clock. Parties immediately went in search for them and two were later captured near Forest Home. The third one, a negro, is still at large.—Echo.

The copper smoke seems to be getting in some good licks lately. Last Monday night it did considerable damage in and around Camanche from reports. John C. Cavagnaro stated that of all his large garden and grain, everything was destroyed excepting the onions. It cut the grain and grass back about 2 inches at several other places in the vicinity, and Mr Cavagnaro is willing to take an oath there has not been a frost there the past two weeks. It is also reported that several grain fields south and east of here have been damaged the past week or ten days, also a large field of grain of Ralph Van Franken in San Joaquin Co., between here and Clements. The committee who have been acting for the tax payers have been asked by several who took in the last meeting, and by some who have not taken part before, to call another meeting at once to the end that something might be done to have the nuisance abated. But inasmuch as a majority voted at the last meeting to give the Penn Chemical Co. forty days to answer their resolution, the committee feels that no good could come by calling another meeting before that time unless requested by the Penn Chemical Co.—Prospect.

W. H. Albright returned Sunday evening from a trip to the head of the Sierra Water Supply Company's ditch system, which took him some sixty miles into the mountains to the east of Placerville, on the line between El Dorado and Amador counties. He went in by way of the south fork of the American river and up the silver fork to Silver Lake. He found the snow on upper silver fork from six to eight feet deep, and packed quite solid, giving every indication that it will be quite late in the season before it is all melted even if there should be no more snow-fall this spring. As the March storms have not paid their accustomed visit to the higher Sierra, it is confidently expected that they will come later, and that they will pile up a further storage of snow in the canyons and on the higher mountain ranges. The Placerville and Tahoe road is practically free of snow at the present time to near the Pacific house, but above there is completely blocked, and will be for weeks to come.—Nugget.

The entertainment given by California parlor No. 161 in Torre's hall, Amador city, Thursday evening March 17, 1910 for the benefit of improving the side walks of Amador was a notable success. The ladies who had charge of the affair are deserving of great credit. All of the performers were local amateurs and sustained their respective parts very creditably. A dance followed the drama, which was kept up until an early hour in the morning. We are unable to give the net receipts as the returns are not all in.

Mr and Mrs Thomas Lemm of Jackson were the guests of Mrs S. J. Pierce Friday.

Mrs Chas Moffie Jr. was a passenger on the outgoing stage Saturday morning for San Francisco.

Miss Idele Whitehead, who has been teaching school at Richmond came home Saturday to spend her Easter vacation with her parents, Mr and Mrs T. Whitehead.

Services at Methodist Church

A very interesting sermon was delivered by the Rev. T. H. Nicholas of the Methodist church, on Sunday last. The text was taken from the teaching of Paul, and ably illustrated with lessons of instruction. Necessity of keeping the cross of Christ before the mind, was impressed very forcefully upon the hearer, as a means for being a successful christian worker, and also the difficulties that overtake those who endeavor to bear the cross. Rev. Nicholas described his interpretation of the foolish ideas which the Greeks and Jews held as to the crucifixion and resurrection of Christ, and explained that the Savior recognized no social distinction, and that by the lowly, pure, plain, simple teaching of his disciples, he has established a religion that has withstood the conflict of tyrants for more than 19 hundred years.

Enjoyable Birthday
Party at Clinton

A very pleasant evening was spent last Sunday at the home of Mr and Mrs Caesar Quirolo in honor of their daughter, Miss Roma's birthday. Dancing was carried on until midnight, when all repaired to a tastefully decorated diningroom, and partook of the dainty refreshments which were served there. Miss Roma was the recipient of many beautiful presents.

Those present were Mr and Mrs Caesar Quirolo, Misses Roma, Francis, Nellie and Josephine Quirolo, Amilia Cunco, Teresa Beneditta, Bertha Lintillac, Ella Smith, Mrs Mary Cunco, Lorenzo Oneto, John Quirolo, Frank H. Firenzi, Nick Oneto, G. B. Romano, Lazarus Arata jr., Frank Phillipine, Joe Smith and B. Ratto.

We expect to have another good time soon, when Miss Roma becomes Mr Firenzi's bride.—Communicated.

Easter's Meaning

Easter is a day of joy for all christians. The resurrection was the pledge of the triumph of christianity. It proves that Christ is God; that he whom the Jews crucified was the son of the most high; that the fire which he came to cast upon the earth was fire from heaven; that the doctrines which he announced bore upon them the stamp and seal of divine authority. Many a wonderful miracle had Jesus wrought in the course of his public ministry. Healing went out from the very hem of his garment, and his voice had power over the devils who had tormented the possessed. He had made the blind to see, and the dumb to speak, nay, he had broken down the barrier that sunders the living and the dead. But great though these miracles were, yet not upon these did he choose to vest the proof of his mission. He again and again told the fact that he would rise from the dead; and on this he was content to vest the assertion of his divinity.

Here, then, is the hinge on which turns the christian's faith; and so true to this, that St. Paul does not hesitate to say, "If Christ be not risen, then vain is your faith and vain is our preaching." Nor is it wonderful that it should be so. Surely, in the stupendous fact of the resurrection from the dead, all must recognize the hand of him who is omnipotent. Great is the power of man, wonderful his skill; but they have their clearly ascertained limits. Men have power upon the earth, and have used it with wonderful results; they have drawn from nature her most cherished secrets, and have forced the unstable elements to reveal the laws by which they are governed; but one thing man cannot do, he cannot lift his head among the grave cloths, nor bring back the tide of blood to the pulseless heart. Only God can do this. Christ, then, by raising himself from the dead, proved himself God, vindicated his claim to divinity, and supplied his apostles with a guarantee, which none might question, of the truth of the message they announced.

At last Jesus has triumphed, "He is arisen, he is not here." St. Patrick's Rector

SHENANDOAH VALLEY

He leaves a wife and two daughters, Mrs Harvey Putman and Mrs Clara Hitt, also two sons, Joseph and Claud Wrigglesworth and many other relatives, and a host of friends to mourn his death. The funeral was held at his residence at 11 o'clock Tuesday morning. The remains were interred in the Shenandoah valley cemetery.

Ed Brumfield was the guest of Ella Maylone for the past few days.

Miss Mable Wilson, the Shenandoah school teacher, and Joseph Davis have been taking a few spins through throughout the valley and Plymouth vicinity in the latest new auto, which he has just purchased.

The crops in this vicinity are looking fine, since the rain, which did much good. O-U-Kid.

Arrested for Failure to Provide.

A man named H. S. Cobb was arrested on instructions from the sheriff of this county on a charge of failure to provide the necessities of life for his family. His wife died in San Francisco last week, and her remains were sent to Sutter Creek for interment, as she was a native of that town. Three children were left uncared for by this death. The authorities took the matter in hand and a warrant was sworn out against the father for neglecting to provide. He was located at Sonora, where he was taken in charge by the officers there. Sheriff Gregory left to-day for that city to bring him here.

Cobb left his wife and children about a year ago while they were living in Sutter Creek. Mrs Cobb thereafter moved to San Francisco, where she was compelled to hire out to work in order to eke out a living for herself and three children, two of whom are now sick in a hospital in that city. The complaint was sworn to before the justice court of Sutter Creek, charging the accused with a felony punishable by imprisonment for two years or $1000 fine or both.

Woman's Exchange.

The woman's exchange will be at the office of G. W. Brown, on Main street to-morrow afternoon, and will be in charge of Mrs Coombes and Mrs Parlin. Call on them for cakes, pies and other delicacies.

Supervisor Grillo Improving.

John B. Grillo, brother of A. Grillo, supervisor of township three, was in Jackson Tuesday, having visited his brother in Stockton. He says that he is doing nicely, and seems to be improving right along. He was walking around as usual when he got there, and to all appearance was in the enjoyment of his customary health. He has been under treatment in Stockton for nearly two months, staying with his brother Frank, who has an interest in a livery stable in that city. The reports of his condition have been exaggerated, which his friends throughout the county will be gratified to hear.

Tue policies of this Paper aim to help and not destroy interest in the county. You can greatly help us by forwarding all news of importance to the editor who in turn will lay it before the reading public

DONT HIDE YOUR MONEY

The man who hides his money because he assumes to be afraid of banks forgets that it was the bank that perhaps made the prosperity possible which gave him his money making opportunities. Without the bank there would be no large commercial or business enterprises possible, salaries and wages would be low, and money making impossible. It is the bank in the exercise of its function in gathering together the funds of a community and putting them into active use that has brought prosperity.

To hide money is to hinder and hurt prosperity by restricting the circulation of money. Bring your money to the bank.

It is claimed for this light that it is brighter and more economical than either gas or electricity; that it is successfully competing with other methods in the large cities where gas and electric lights are furnished at bedrock rates. The lights in Arditto's were started for the first time Wednesday, and they certainly gave a brilliant and satisfactory light, the electric lights looking dim in comparison.

HOLD BOGUS

BILL PASSER

Prisoner Passed Confederate Money on His Victims

D. Braghero, who was arrested in Sacramento last Thursday as stated in the Ledger last week, was brought back to Jackson by deputy sheriff Connors on Saturday, and is now confined in the county jail, awaiting further action. It appears that he was handling paper money issued by the confederate governments in war times. At the same time he was engaged in selling lots in Sunny-side district in San Francisco. The particular offense that led to his apprehension was the passing of a confederate $5 bill upon Louis Galli in New Chicago. He tried to work off some of the same stuff on Frank Gazzera in Drtyown, but Gazzera was suspicious. From the appearance of the proffered money in payment for drinks he concluded that it was no account, and told Braghero so, and that he could have the drinks free, but he would not take his paper money. It seems he had quite a stock of the bills. He tried the game on Cappelini, in New Chicago, and failed. At Jos Poinelli's place on Sutter hill he offered a $20 bill. The proprietor saying he had no change, he tendered a $10 note of the same suspicious hue—of a yellowish color. This being declined on the same ground of lack of change, he produced a $5 bill, but Poinelli did not want any of that sort of money.

After he escaped from constable Tuttle on Sutter hill, while the officer was enroute with his prisoner to Jackson to lodge him in jail, he went to Sutter Creek, and passed the night there at the house of an Italian. Next morning he came on to Jackson and had breakfast, passing through this city while the officers were searching for him in the valley. He went on to Paloma, and thence to Sacramento, where the officers got on his trail and captured him. It appears that the offense of passing confederate money did not come within the jurisdiction of the federal courts. The money is not counterfeit, although just as worthless. The district attorney has been looking into the matter, and finds that it is an offense under the state law—passing fictitious money. So that the accused will be prosecuted in the superior court on a felony charge.

The $5 bill passed on Galli is in the hands of the officers, also another confederate bill which was found in the possession of the accused. His grip, in which he is supposed to have concealed his wad of this bogus stuff, has not been captured.

GASOLINE LAMPS THE SAFEST. L. F. Andrews, Expert for the State Board of Health, Des Moines, Iowa, Gives Reasons for Saying It.

Former expert for the state board of health, L. F. Andrews, was asked today for his opinion of gasoline lamps:

"It is true I have had some experience in that direction. I have had placed in my hands during the eighteen months samples of nearly all the different kinds of gasoline lamps made and have given them thorough practical tests. I may say, forced tests—that is test to which they would not be liable in ordinary use, and I believe them safe—safer than a kerosene lamp, durable, economical, clean, brilliant in illumination, and easily handled. Such is their construction they may be safely said to be non-explosive. I have tested them carefully in that direction. The apparatus for generating the vapor in these lamps is so constructed that no air can possibly come in contact with the gasoline from the time it leaves the reservoir until it leaves the gas orifice as dry hydro-carbon gas and the gas orifice is no larger than the point of a fine cambric needle. So exceedingly light is this gas, that should a lamp accidentally fall, the shock would extinguish it, so really the only source of danger of these lamps is in filling the reservoir when the lamp is burning, contrary to all positive instructions given with every lamp, and contrary to every suggestion of common sense.

"Yes I must say I believe them safer than a kerosene lamp, for a kerosene lamp will explode when burning, and is liable to do so from many causes. I am sustained in this belief by the fact that in the 15 years gasoline lamps have been in use—millions of them—not an accident from them has been known to occur, while the loss of life and property from the kerosene lamp has been enormous. If a kerosene lamp is broken when burning, a conflagration is almost inevitable.

"With public confidence assured of its safety, I think the gasoline lamp will supersede the kerosene. Fire insurance companies permit their use if they have been tested and approved by the Consulting Engineers of the National Board of Fire Underwriters."—Des Moines Daily News

Female Trouble Cured.

Another lady of Sacramento, prominent in the Daughters of Rebekah lodge, is Mrs Cuttenburger of 3131 street. For the past five years she has been a suffer from female trouble, and her gratitude to Fer-Don's Medical Experts for the cure effected in her case is best in her own words. Mrs Cuttenburger says:

"My mother and I were extremely worried about my condition, having several physicians during the past five years. But none of them seemed to do me any good until we found Fer-Don's specialists.

"The 25th of last October is a day I will never forget, as it was on that day I began treatment with these truly great doctors. Prior to that time I had severe nervous spells, female trouble and dizziness. I felt tired and worn out all the time and just like every step was going to be my last. Spells would last a few minutes, for three times a day, and almost every month I would have extremely severe ones.

"I have not the least of any of these symptoms now; have gained seven pounds in weight; can attend meetings of the Rebekah order, to which I belong, and would not take $1,000 and be back the way I once was.

"For the benefit of those who are suffering as I have suffered, and hoping that these few words may be the means of pointing their recovery of health, I voluntarily and gladly make this statement. Fer-Don's specialists are certainly all right, and if disease can possibly be cured they can do it.

"The above testimonial is only one of many hundreds received from grateful women from Sacramento and vicinity, as well as other portions of the country, each of whom are loud in their praises of these experts. Wherever these learned physicians have remained for any length of time—Los Angeles, San Francisco, Oakland, and all large cities of the east—they have brought sunshine and happiness into the lives and homes of hundreds of suffering mothers wives, sisters or sweethearts by their wonderful cures.

NEW CENSUS
IMPORTANT
For Good of California
All Available Informa-

The coming national census is of more than passing interest to California, for on its showing of population depends additional representation in congress. The California development board, in its compilations of population, has made the estimate of a total in the state of more than 2,500,000, and if this estimate be verified by the coming census it will mean that the state is entitled to five more members of congress.

County Short of
Census Enumerators

Monesta, Calif., March 18, 1910. Amador Ledger, Jackson: It may be of interest to your readers to know that I have no qualified applicants for a position as enumerator in the township of Plymouth, in your county, and also in the eastern half of Sutter Creek township. It is not necessary that the enumerators be residents of the township for which they are appointed, but it is desired that such be the case.

The compensation paid to enumerators in these townships will be $5.50 per day. If any one wishes such appointment he should write to me at once, otherwise I will be compelled to give the position to applicants residing out of the county.

Escaped Death Valley and Lives.

In the March Wide World Magazine is given the story of a man who, alone and unaided, conquered Death valley in the hottest month of the desert year. The tale of awful suffering endured by this man, H. W. Mantion of Rynolite, Cal., is told for the first time. For almost a week Mantion was lost in the heat of Death valley. In three days he tramped eighty miles over sands so hot that he could scarcely walk on them, though shod with heavy shoes. During those never-ending days he had no food and but one drink of water.

A chain is no stronger than its weakest link, the body no stronger than its weakest organ. If there is weakness of stomach, liver or lungs, there is a weak link in the chain of life which may snap at any time. Often this so-called "weakness" is caused by lack of nutrition, the result of weakness or disease of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. Diseases and weaknesses of the stomach and its allied organs are cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. When the weak or diseased stomach is cured, diseases of other organs which seem remote from the stomach but which have their origin in a diseased condition of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition, are cured also.'

SQUATTER RIGHTS ON NATIONAL FORESTS

Secretary Wilson has just issued an order providing for a more liberal treatment of bona fide squatters upon unsurveyed land which has been included within National forests since the time of actual occupancy of the land by the squatter.
Under the homestead law it is impossible for any one to secure legal title to unsurveyed public land, but occupancy pending survey is recognized as giving a prior claim to the land after survey, under what is known as "squatters' rights." A squatter who had, in good faith, taken possession of a piece of National Forest land before the National Forests were created is not dispossessed of his claim by the Forest Service, and if he lives upon it and cultivates it until the land has been surveyed, he is able to get his homestead just as though he had settled on any part of the unsurveyed public domain. But since the passage of the Act of June 11, 1906, which permits the secretary of agriculture to list for settlement land which he finds chiefly valuable for agriculture, it has been possible for squatters to apply for the listing of their lands under this act, and thus to obtain title prior to the Government survey. The object of the new order of the secretary is to provide for the listing of the full amount of land which the occupant would receive if he exercised his option of awaiting the Government survey, irrespective of whether or not the entire area is cultivable, provided the claim is bona fide and the land is not more valuable for its timber than for agriculture.
Secretary Wilson's order is as follows: "A person who has settled upon and continuously occupied unsurveyed lands within a National Forest before its creation and is at the present time occupying such lands in good faith and is in all respects complying with the homestead law, has the right to include within the lines of his homestead 160 acres after the land is surveyed. Therefore, if the land is occupied for agricultural purposes and is not more valuable for its timber than for such purposes, and there are no circumstances which would in the opinion of the District Forester tend to discredit the bona fides of the claimant, he should be allowed to make application for the patenting of such lands under the act of June 11, 1906, and the examination for listing should be made with a view of listing 160 acres of land where possible. The tracts as listed should conform so far as practicable to the form of the public land surveys. The listing of lands as above should not in any way govern the determination of the total area or amount of non-cultivable land listed for applicants under the act of June 11, 1906, who were not residing upon the land before the creation of the forest.
"In cases where less than 160 acres of land has been listed to a person who settled upon the land prior to the creation of the forest, an additional area sufficient to complete the homestead entry may be allowed upon proper application."

Facing death from shot and shell in the civil war was more agreeable to J. A. Stone, of Kemp, Tex., than facing it from what doctors said was consumption. "I contracted a stubborn cold," he writes, "that developed a cough, that stuck to me in spite of all remedies for years. My weight ran down to 120 pounds. Then I began to use Dr. King's New Discovery, which completely cured me. I now weigh 175 pounds." For coughs, colds, la grippe, asthma, hemorrhage, hoarseness, croup, whooping cough and lung trouble, it

Untrained Speech.—Is the Climate Changing?—Dark Opaque Masses in the Sky—Spraying by Acetylene—Our Changing Food—Not in the Smithsonian Collection—Disease Resistance of Cold Blood—Explosion Turbines—Hanging Weight.
The cure of stammering is chiefly the teaching of correct speech, in the view of Dr. G. Hudson Makuen, of Philadelphia. Of the more than 300,000 stammerers in the United States he believes that one-fourth could overcome the defect of their own accord, with a little aid from friends, but the remaining three-fourths of the cases are more serious, and the many so-called cures have little effect because based on imperfect understanding. The malady is often a complicated one. The trouble is not so much in the tongue, as is usually assumed, as it is in the central mechanisms of speech, and it involves also some of the higher intellectual and emotional centers of the brain. Though any obstacles to good speech must first be removed, the primary treatment consists in teaching how to speak correctly. The exercises, purely educational and physiological, must be adapted to individual requirements, and must be continued long enough to form entirely new habits of speech, months and even years being often necessary. Nobody can honestly guarantee to cure stammering in six weeks, or even guarantee to cure at all.
Belief that climate has materially changed within a few years is common in many localities. In Egypt B. F. E. Keeling has found a strong impression that the climate has altered much in 19 or 20 years, and it is insisted that the rainfall has increased. Investigating the records, he has shown that the mean temperature of the five-year periods since 1780 has remained practically the same. The rainfall often greatly influenced by single storms, is very variable for different years. At Abnesia the driest year on record was 1882, with a quarter of an inch of rain, and the wettest was 1894, with less than 2 inches, the mean for 1907 and 1908 being 1.4 inches.
Dark "lenses" in Prof. Barnard's photographs of nebulae hint at light-absorbing matter in space. The nebulous region of Gamma Scortii seems partially to veil stars behind, and dark lanes in the nebula of Rho Ophiuchi strongly suggest an opaque mass of inconceivable extent.
The increase in the consumption of calcium carbide in Australia from 2,000 tons four years ago to more than 8,000 tons last year is attributed to a very curious use that has been made of it. A novel gas-sprayer was introduced five years ago by W. Free, of Sydney, and has proved so popular that more than 5,000 have been put to work for a great variety of purposes, such as spraying fruit trees, spreading turpentine and zinc-white on the inside of feed tanks of boilers, applying disinfectants, and painting and disempering. The apparatus consists of a larger cylinder for the spraying solution or emulsion, with a smaller one in which the gas is produced by the dripping of water into calcium carbide at any required rate. The two cylinders are fastened together, and are riveted to withstand a pressure of 20 pounds per square inch, about twice the pressure yielded by the generation of the acetylene. The one disadvantage of this convenient sprayer is the inflammability of the gas that is so easily produced.
Studying carefully the sources of food supply Prof. A. Wockof has concluded that sooner or later the human race must depend entirely upon vegetable food. Meat must become unavailable for ordinary use, and the substitution of any manufactured substance for vegetable products is extremely improbable, as plant life is capable of storing solar energy much more economically than any machine can do. Experience has shown that no kind of food is indispensable. Scarcely any one kind is everywhere regarded as a necessary of life, and many kinds that certain peoples now regard as necessities were a few generations ago almost unknown to them. The productiveness of the agricultural lands of the world is likely to be almost indefinitely increased by the application of scientific methods.
What appears to be the smallest insect known has been described in India by Dr. N. Annandale. It is only 1-120 of an inch, and belongs to the Hymenoptera, the order including ants, bees and wasps. It has received the name of Alaptus magnanimus. Only one specimen has been seen, and that appeared in the field of vision as the describer was observing under the microscope certain organisms in oil of cloves.
The entrance of bacteria into the circulation of warm blooded animals is strongly resisted by specific antidotes or antitoxins and special solvents or lysins, in the the production of which the leucocytes or white corpuscles of the blood are concerned. The susceptibility of fresh-water crabs has suggested that the blood of cold-blooded animals has no such germ-killing qualities. To test the matter, an investigation has been made by Angerer at the Biological Experiment Station at Munich, and he has found that the blood of crabs really has little effect upon bacteria, the same being true also of the blood of snails and mussels. The slimy mucus exuded by hibernating snails, on the other hand, has strong bactericidal action. The blood of carp has powerful effect, and the white blood corpuscles devour and digest great quantities of typhoid bacilli and other bacteria. The blood of May beetles also opposes bacteria vigorously. Thick armor proves to have no influence in keeping out bacteria, and fishes and some other cold-blooded animals have the same protection as warm-blooded creatures.

The explosion gas turbine has been in the experimental stage in France for several years. The machine lately built in Paris by M. Kravodine develops about two horse-power, and for some months has been working with regularity and satisfaction. It has four explosion chambers, in which the products of the explosions are directed through four nozzles upon a single turbine wheel. This wheel, about six inches in diameter, makes 10,000 revolutions per minute, and has a peripheral velocity of about 250 feet per second, or three miles per minute. The consumption of gasoline was 4.03 pounds per horse-power hour. The machine has small size and weight, and seems to promise successful development.
The pull exerted on a hangman's rope has been the novel and gruesome subject of tests by Dr. Angelo de Dominici. The pull of a living dog when quiet was 20 pounds, and on hanging it was 42 pounds; and the Doan's Kidneys Pills is the remedy to use, because it gives to the kidneys the help they need to perform their work.

If you have any, even one, of the symptoms of kidney diseases, cure yourself now, before diabetes, dropsy or Bright's disease sets in. Read this Jackson testimony.
Mrs. J. Cook, Broadway, Jackson, Cal., says: "I suffered from kidney trouble for a long time and nothing helped me until I procured a box of Doan's Kidney Pills at the City Pharmacy. I was much run down in health and my back ached constantly. I also had frequent dizzy spells and my kidneys did not act properly. I at length began using Doan's Kidney Pills and they gave me relief from the first. I was soon cured and my kidneys are now normal and my back stronger. ## MINE NEWS HARD TO GET

It is to be regretted that some mine superintendents totally ignore any requests as to giving out news, or bits of information that would interest the miner, who toils so hard for the small recompense he receives. Surely mine news, in a community like this, is more important than would be any kind of sensational news, for it means bread and butter to the children, and wife, it helps the storekeeper to give big orders, or cancel old orders, it creates industry that would otherwise be un-thought of if a shutdown of mines were contemplated, and best of all, it sends a new course of blood through the veins of the toiler, when he learns that there are prospects of his being able to buy a property or improve a place by the finding of new ore bodies, or opening of new mines.

We fail to understand how such information will, in any reasonable argument, harm the mine owners, and positively know that news of this kind is sought after by everyone in the county. It is our aim to give the readers all mine information we can obtain, and ask to be excused if we publish accounts which later might be contradicted or denied. All stories we publish, will be investigated, and nothing frivolous or imaginary will pass us intentionally.

An Old Settler Dies.

Joseph Wigglesworth of Aukum, El Dorado county, died at his home in that town on Saturday last, about 10 o'clock p. m., after a lingering illness of cancer of the face. He was well known to the residents of the northern section of Amador county, having resided in that vicinity for many years. His wife has been postmistress of Aukum for a long time. The funeral took place on Tuesday, the remains being interred in the cemetery of Shenandoah valley.

Jackson to Have Shooting Gallery

J. D. Wells, formerly of Point Richmond, has decided to open up a shooting gallery in the store room which was formerly occupied by the Red Front store.

The interior of the place is undergoing a complete change, and when completed will give the city an up-to-date gallery. The proprietor insists that he takes great pride in the accuracy of his rifles and expects to prove the same on Saturday, when he holds his formal opening.

The range will be about 30 feet, leaving a good 20 foot as a corridor. All the latest devices will be used as targets. Mrs. Wells, the manager's wife, will be connected with the running of the place. She is considered an elegant shot, and holds records that are hard to beat. Prizes will be given each week, consisting of first class rifles to those who reach a certain average.
